(Copies of documents required by contractors in connection with specific procurement functions should be obtained from the procuring activity or as directed by the contracting officer.)

3. REQUIREMENTS

3.1 General. The applicable maintenance technical manuals shall be used as the source documents for obtaining the basic checklist data. Checklists shall be prepared with the intent to condense the tasks to the operational minimum; to standardize, control, integrate, and time phase the tasks. Tasks shall be listed in the most logical and convenient sequence of accomplishment. Checklists shall not contain instructions on how to accomplish the task. The emphasis shall be placed on what needs to be done, rather than the technique involved.

3.2 Front matter. The front matter of the checklist shall be in accordance with MIL-C-38778.

3.3 Preliminary instructions. Preliminary instructions shall precede each checklist task and shall contain information pertinent to accomplishment of the task, such as applicable technical orders, special tools, or equipment required.

3.4 Checklist contents. The checklist shall contain the tasks that must be performed. All controls, such as switch names and switch positions, shall be in upper case letters as marked on the hardware. All other tasks shall have only the first letter of the first word capitalized. Normal readings (and tolerance, if applicable) shall be given. Amplification, when required, shall be in sentence form extending across the page, commencing on the second line below the task with a four space indentation. Applicable manuals may be referenced at the end of the task in order to provide additional information to accomplish, amplify, or clarify a procedure, or to correct a discrepancy or malfunction that may develop when accomplishing the task. Tasks shall be grouped into major functions, such as: disassembly, inspection, testing and reassembly. The function title, in upper case letters, shall be underlined. Each new function within a checklist shall be started on a new page.

3.4.1 Illustrations. Illustrations will be included only when absolutely necessary to preclude continuous reference to critical data in applicable maintenance manuals. Normally, they will be limited to charts or graphs that contain information which is variable such as temperature or humidity stablization prior to testing.

4. QUALITY ASSURANCE PROVISIONS

4.1 Quality assurance provisions shall be in accordance with MIL-M-38784 and MIL-P-38790.

5. PREPARATION FOR DELIVERY

5.1 Packaging, packing, and marking shall be in accordance with MIL-M-38784 and MIL-P-38790.

6. NOTES

6.1 Intended use. Checklists prepared to this specification are intended for use by Air Force intermediate maintenance activities as an abbreviated guide for performing maintenance tasks, in logical sequence, or airborne armament and electronic systems/equipment.
