MILITARY SPECIFICATION

MANUALS TECHNICAL: OPERATION INSTRUCTIONS
(For Hand-Held Flight Computers)

1. SCOPE

1.1 This specification covers the general requirements for preparation of technical manuals for operation of hand-held range, take-off and landing, and air navigation computers. These computers may be disc or slide rule types constructed of heavy paper, metal, or plastic, and inscribed with the scales and calibrations needed by the aircrew for solving appropriate problems.

2. APPLICABLE DOCUMENTS

2.1 The following documents, of the issue in effect on date of invitation for bids or request for proposal, form a part of this specification to the extent specified herein.

SPECIFICATION

Military

MIL-M-38784 - Manuals, Technical: General Requirements for Preparation of

MIL-P-38790 - Printing Production of Technical Manuals: General Requirements for

(Copies of documents required by contractors in connection with specific procurement functions should be obtained from the procuring agency or as directed by the contracting officer.)

3. REQUIREMENTS

3.1 Preparation. The general manner of preparation of the technical manual shall be in accordance with MIL-M-38784 and MIL-P-38790 except that the page size for a manual shall be determined by the size of the carrying case for the computer. Refer to 3.9 for other exceptions.

3.2 Text content. The manual shall not deal with detailed theory of operation, but shall contain information necessary for the efficient operation of the computer by personnel having operating experience.

3.3 Style. The text shall be factual, specific, concise and devoid of nonessentials. Information provided in one portion of the manual shall not be repeated elsewhere in the manual.

3.4 Nomenclature. Nomenclature shall be definite enough to insure clear identification.

3.5 Security classification. Security classification markings in the manual, when applicable, shall be in accordance with MIL-M-38784.

3.6 Abbreviations. The use of abbreviations shall be held to the absolute minimum. Those used shall be in accordance with MIL-M-38784. However, anything abbreviated on the computer itself shall be abbreviated in the same manner in the manual when reference is made thereto.

3.7 References. The requirements of MIL-M-38784 are applicable.

3.8 Illustrations. Illustrations and diagrams shall be prepared in accordance with MIL-M-38784 and shall be used to clarify and supplement the related text. Illustrations shall appear as close to the related text as possible.

3.9 Arrangement. The technical manual shall have the following contents, arranged as shown:

* Title Page

 List of Effective Pages

 Table of Contents

 List of Illustrations

 List of Tables

Section I Introduction and Description

Section II Operation

* Full title page required only if manual exceeds 15 pages

 Required only if manual exceeds 15 pages

 Required only if quantity to be listed exceeds 10

3.9.1 Title page and list of effective pages. The title page and list of effective pages shall be in accordance with MIL-M-38784.

3.9.2 Table of contents. The table of contents shall normally list only the section and main paragraph headings with initial page numbers. When needed, secondary paragraph headings shall be included for lengthy text under main headings.

3.9.3 List of illustrations. A list of illustrations shall follow the table of contents and shall be prepared in accordance with MIL-M-38784.

3.9.4 List of tables. A list of tables shall follow the list of illustrations and shall be prepared in accordance with MIL-M-38784.

3.9.5 Section I, Introduction and Description. This section shall provide a brief explanation of the purpose of the technical manual and any other relevant information which may increase the usefulness of the manual. It shall contain an illustration of the computer and a brief explanation of the computer's purpose and how the computer accomplishes its purpose.

3.9.6 Section II, Operation. This section shall contain detailed practical operation instructions in proper sequence for a complete step-by-step, start-to-finish cycle. Such instructions will vary according to the computer's construction and complexity but they shall be sufficient to satisfy the requirements of personnel responsible for operation of the computer. A few sentences may suffice for a simple computer; several pages of text, illustrations and tables may be needed for a complicated computer. Preliminary adjustments and settings, explanation of each step, where to obtain readings, shall all be included. Representative examples will prove helpful.

4. QUALITY ASSURANCE PROVISIONS

4.1 The quality assurance provisions of MIL-M-38784 and MIL-P-38790 shall be applicable.

5. PREPARATION FOR DELIVERY

5.1 Packaging, packing, and marking for shipment shall be in accordance with MIL-M-38784 and MIL-P-38790.

6. NOTES

6.1 Intended use. The technical manuals described in this document are to be used as operating instructions for hand-held flight computers.

6.2 Changes in this specification. The only changes made in this issue of the specification are to show current applicable documents.
