Applicable Forms: DD Form 2875 for Air Force (AF) Portal access, DD Form 2875 for Comprehensive Engine Management System (CEMS) access, Non-Disclosure Statement for CEMS, DoD Information Assurance Awareness (IAA) training certificate and CEMS TCTO Status Report

Use/relationship: As directed by the AF propulsion community, all organizations possessing and/or maintaining AF engines or components on behalf of the AF, TCTO reporting is required to report modifications and changes to AF engines, installed assemblies and components to the Comprehensive Engine Management System (CEMS). TCTO reporting ensures that the worldwide inventory is complete and accurate.

a. This Data Item Description (DID) contains the requirements, to include access to the Internet, AF Portal, and CEMS for the purpose of reporting TCTO status for engines, assemblies, and components. It also contains the format and content preparation instructions for the data reporting generated by the specific and discrete task requirement as delineated in the contract.

b. This DID is applicable when contractors report TCTO status data to CEMS as designated by the AF propulsion community.

c. Publications referenced below are available on the CEMS web site, https://www.my.af.mil/gimmsprod/cpmo/ , at CEMS Program Management Office (PMO), Tinker AFB, OK.

d. This DID supersedes DI-MGMT-81325B.

Requirements:

1. Reference Documents: The applicable issue of the documents cited herein, including their approval dates and dates of any applicable amendments, notices, and revisions, shall be as specified in the contract. Definitions and/or descriptions of the various data authorized for entry in the specified blocks of the CEMS TCTO Status Report are contained in United States AF Technical Order (T.O.) 00-25-254-1.

2. Format. Unless an agreed upon approved interface exists, all required input is via the reporting process known as CEMS.

3. Content.

3.1 Access to CEMS: In order to accomplish the required access to government computer systems for the purpose of reporting as referenced above, the following is required:

a. A minimum of a favorable National Agency Check with Inquiries (NACI) is required for any contractor accessing a Department of Defense (DoD) Information
