Use/Relationship: Logistics Management Information (LMI) comprises the support and support-related logistics data acquired from contractors generated because of the product support analysis conducted during the design, development, and initial fielding of a system or end item that the requiring authority needs to develop their internal materiel management processes. The LMI database is an all-inclusive database that provides the content necessary to support multiple data products in one single delivery. This includes data for maintenance planning, indentured and repair bill of materials (BOM), logistics design requirements, reliability and maintainability, system safety, maintenance engineering, support and test equipment, training and training devices, manpower and skills, facilities, transportation, supply support, parts packaging, initial provisioning, provisioning parts list (PPL), support equipment recommendation documents (SERDs), cost, cataloging, item management and in-service feedback.

This Data Item Description (DID) contains the format, content, and intended use information for the data deliverable resulting from the work task described in the contract Statement of Work (SOW).

This DID is applicable to the acquisition of military systems, equipment and components.

When contracting for Provisioning Data using Appendix D of GEIA-STD-0007 (Logistics Product Data and Handbook), Engineering Data for Provisioning (EDFP), is required to properly support cataloging items in the Federal Cataloging System.
