"4.4 Examination and tests. -

"4.4.1 Visual and dimensional examination. - Each of the sample specimens selected in accordance with 4.3.2 shall be visually and dimensionally examined to verify compliance with this specification. Minor surface defects not affecting the serviceability of the packing material shall not be cause for rejection. Any length of packing material in the sample containing one or more visual or dimensional defects shall be rejected, and if the number of defective lengths of packing material in any sample exceeds the acceptance number for that sample, the lot represented by the sample shall be rejected."

Pages 4 and 5; paragraph 4.4.3.1: Delete and substitute:

"4.4.3.1 Action in case of failure. - Acceptance of the first lot under a contract or order shall be withheld until a satisfactory report is received on the comparison test sample. Thenceforth, except as hereinafter specified, acceptance and rejection of lots shall normally be on the basis of the lot acceptance examination and tests specified in 4.4.1 and 4.4.2. Lot acceptance shall then not be withheld pending receipt of a test report on the subsequent production sample. However upon receipt of an unsatisfactory test report on a comparison test sample, additional samples shall be selected from every subsequent lot offered for delivery. The sample so selected shall be submitted to a laboratory satisfactory to the Bureau of Ships, and shall there be subjected to the comparison tests specified in 4.4.3. Lots shall then be accepted only upon receipt of a satisfactory test report on the samples so

"6.2 With respect to products requiring qualification, awards will be made only for such products as have, prior to the time set for opening of bids, been tested and approved for inclusion in Qualified Products List QPL 17416, whether or not such products have actually been so listed by that date. The attention of the suppliers is called to this requirement, and manufacturers are urged to arrange to have the products that they propose to offer to the Federal Government tested for qualification, in order that they may be eligible to be awarded contracts or orders for the products covered by this specification. The activity responsible for the qualified products list is the Chief of the Bureau of Ships, Department of the Navy, Washington 25, D. C., and information pertaining to qualification of products may be obtained from that activity. Application for Qualification tests shall be made in accordance with "Provisions Governing Qualification" (see 6.4)."
