This Military Handbook is a consolidated index of documents used by the Naval Facilities Engineering Command (NAVFACENGCOM) and is published annually by the Naval Construction Battalion Center, Port Hueneme, CA 93043-5000.

The consolidated index provides a source from which needed references may be identified. NAVFACENGCOM managers may use the listings to oversee the number of documents under their control and verify their currency. Interested parties may use it to determine which documents might satisfy their needs and how to obtain the documents. It will also serve as a historical listing for future research.

TYPES OF DOCUMENTS LISTED IN MILITARY HANDBOOK 1000/1

1. The following types of documents are included in this Handbook:

NAVFACENGCOM GUIDE SPECIFICATIONS (NFGS): NAVFAC Guide Specifications (NFGS) standardize the scope and format of specifications for a specific product, group of products, or a construction procedure. They are used to satisfy project requirements in producing a portion of a project specification for a NAVFAC construction contract. The Guide Specifications are separated into CSI Master Format divisions.

NAVFACENGCOM SHORT FORM GUIDE SPECIFICATIONS (SF): NAVFAC Short Form Guide Specifications are for use in preparing project specifications for small projects, repair or maintenance work. It may be used for minor elements or small quantities of work in larger projects at the discretion of the Engineer/Architect in Charge. If a more detailed specification is required, use the NFGS series of specifications.

DESIGN MANUALS/MILITARY HANDBOOKS: These documents are used in the engineering and design of facilities under the cognizance and funding of NAVFACENGCOM to provide guidance to all organizational levels of the Navy with direction and standards for procedures, methods, dimensions, materials, loads, and stresses. The purpose of these documents is to provide the best and most energy efficient design practices of NAVFACENGCOM, other government agencies, and the private sector for the construction, modernization, and rehabilitation of naval facilities.

NOTE: MILITARY HANDBOOKS ARE BEING WRITTEN TO REPLACE DESIGN MANUALS.

MAINTENANCE AND OPERATIONS MANUALS (MOs): MOs are reference type documents containing specific recommendations and technical guidance to be followed for continued maintenance and operation of facilities and equipment. MOs do not fall under the NAVSO P-35 definition of technical manuals because they are not mandatory unless prescribed in an implementing directive. Instead, they are a guide to simplified maintenance management that can be tailored at individual activities to meet their special needs and requirements.

P-PUBLICATIONS (P-PUBS): P-Pubs are reference type documents to be used for planning by facilities engineers and architects that do not cleanly fit into the categories as DMs or Mos.

DIRECTIVES: Current NAVFAC instructions listed chronologically and numerically. An additional section is provided in the historical section of this Handbook showing canceled/superseded directives.

FORMS: Comprehensive listing of: Standard Forms (SFs) which are used government-wide; Department of Defense Forms (DOD) which are used by all DOD agencies; and Naval Facilities Engineering Command Forms (NAVFACENGCOM) which are used NAVFACENGCOM-wide, or occasionally a form is available for use only at Headquarters.

REPORTS: Comprehensive list of reporting requirements established by NAVFACENGCOM.

TELEPHONE ORDER ENTRY SYSTEM (TELESPECS)

The fastest and most accurate way to obtain documents "as needed" is through TeleSpecs. This automated system is your direct connection to the Navy Print on Demand System (NPODS). Telespecs eliminates mail and handling delays and puts in total control of the documents request process. TeleSpecs requires only a touch-tone phone, and utilizes an easy-to-use automated voice-prompt system.

Telespecs is designed to accept document orders in groups of five. If you wish to order more than five different documents, please stay on the line, and TeleSpecs will allow you to order additional documents. Keep in mind that a single document order may contain a request for up to five copies of that document at no cost to you.

TeleSpecs is "open for business" from 7:00 A. M to 10:00 P.M.(Eastern Standard Time), Monday through Friday, and has twelve telephone lines to serve you:(215)-697-1187 thru 1198.
