FOREWORD

The Department of Defense is committed to increase the quality of the data management programs that support the acquisition of systems and equipment. The Data Management Program plays an important role in the timely acquisition of data to support each phase of the life cycle of a system/equipment.

Acquisition of the proper documentation at the appropriate time will insure the Government of the capability to complete its reprocurement of spare parts, thereby reducing their cost.

Contractors should be encouraged, within the context of this document, to propose revisions to the data item descriptions cited in contracts so as to capitalize on any advancements in the state-of-the-art in relation to data media.
