2.2 Order of precedence. In the event of a conflict between the text of this document and the references cited herein (except for associated detail specifications, specification sheets, or MS standards), the text of this document takes precedence. Nothing in this document, however, shall supersede applicable laws and regulations unless a specific exemption has been obtained.

3. REQUIREMENTS

3.1 General. Drawings for commercially developed items shall be contractor or original supplier form and format. These drawings shall be complete to define the item(s) and must include materials, finishes, and processes. If supplements or changes to existing documentation are necessary to achieve functional equivalence, these supplements or changes shall be incorporated and separately identifiable from the original documentation. The complete requirements for drawings described herein shall consist of this document and the basic MIL-T-47500 except the requirements for existing data do not apply (see 6.3).

3.1.1 Data provisions. Data shall be provided for each unit, assembly, module, part, or material to support installation and repair parts data, maintenance, modification, and engineering analysis to be performed.

3.2 Drawing requirements. The requirements of DOD-STD-100 are not mandatory.

3.3 Reference documents. Contractor documents cited on drawings are considered reference documents and shall be furnished as part of the package. Technical manuals, procedural manuals, maintenance manuals, and company drafting manuals are not considered reference documents.

3.4 Legibility and reproducibility. Legibility and reproducibility of commercial drawings shall be such that every line, number, letter, and character data be clearly legible and readable. These commercial drawings shall be of such clarity and legibility as specified in MIL-D-5480, except, only a second generation copy capability is required.

3.5 Reproductions. Reproductions shall be as specified on the selection worksheets.

3.6. Selection of options. Drawings shall be prepared to meet the requirements of the selection worksheets (MIL-T-47500).

4. QUALITY ASSURANCE PROVISIONS

4.1 Quality control procedures. The contractor's procedures shall as a minimum include inspection for:

a. Completeness to assure that all drawings, reference documents and company standards necessary to make a complete set are included.

b. Adequacy against the applicable parameters to ensure that the required information is adequate to meet contract requirements.

c. Legibility and reproducibility as specified in 3.4.

5. PACKAGING

5.1 Packaging requirements. Packaging requirements shall be as specified in MIL-T-47500 and the contract or order.

6. NOTES

(This section contains information of a general or explanatory nature that may be helpful, but is not mandatory.)

6.1 Intended use. This specification reflects Department of Defense policy for acquiring only those commercial drawings that are needed to supplement data contained in control drawings (see MIL-T-47500/2) and to support Non Developmental Items (NDI).

6.2 Acquisition requirements. Acquisition documents must specify the following information:

a. Title, number, and date of this specification.

b. Applicable DID (6.3).

c. Issue of DODISS to be cited in the solicitation, and if required, the specific issue of individual documents referenced (see 2.1.1).

d. Applicable selection worksheets (reproduced, completed, and included as part of the contract (see 3.6)).

6.3 Data requirements. The following Data Item Descriptions (DID's) must be listed, as applicable, on the Contract Data Requirements List (DD Form 1423) when this specification is applied on a contract, in order to obtain the data, except where DOD FAR Supplement 227.475-1 exempts the requirements for a DD Form 1423.

Ref Para	DID Number	DID Title	Suggested Tailoring
3.1	DI-CMAN-80784	Commercial drawings

The above DID's were those cleared as of the date of this specification. The current issue of DOD 5010.12-L, Acquisition Management Systems and Data Requirements Control List (AMSDL), must be researched to ensure that only current, cleared DID's are cited on the DD Form 1423.
