Applicable Forms: DD Form 1694, Request for Variance (RFV)

Use/relationship: A Request for Variance (RFV) describes a proposed departure from (a nonconformance with) approved product definition information for a limited amount of time/specified effectivity or a product found to be nonconforming with product definition information after the product has been produced by the production process.

- When the RFV describes a proposed departure from approved product definition information (i.e., pre-production), the variance shall result in a reduction in cost; indicated by enclosing the value in parentheses.
- When the RFV describes a product found to be nonconforming after the product has been produced (i.e., post-production), the variance shall result in a reduction in cost; indicated by enclosing the value in parentheses.
- When the nonconformance is induced or caused by the Acquirer, a reduction in cost is not required when submitting the RFV.
