COMMERCIAL ITEM DESCRIPTION

SPLINT ASSEMBLY, FULL BODY, RESCUE AND TRANSPORT
Kendrick, Adjustable, Radiolucent

The General Services Administration has authorized the use of this commercial item description.

This commercial item description covers an adjustable, full body, wrap-around, splint assembly which can be used at an injury site to safely immobilize an injured person for subsequent rescue and transportation operations.

Salient characteristics:

The basic body splint shall be constructed of rigid battens covered by a vinyl coated, reinforced nylon skin which shall provide vertical rigidity and horizontal flexibility to allow the splint to be constructed or assembled around the full body of an injured person at an injury site, and safely immobilize him for subsequent rescue and transportation operations.

The body splint assembly shall consist essentially of the following:

a. The basic adjustable body splint with sufficient chest and leg straps to secure the patient, and lifting handles to permit safe handling.
b. One neck roll.
c. One chin strap.
d. One forehead strap.
e. One carrying case.

The body splint shall accommodate patients weighing up to a maximum of 350 lbs. (157.5 kg).

Chest straps, leg straps and lifting handles shall be constructed of 500 lb. test strength material.

The body splint shall accommodate a chest girth of up to 60 inches (152.4 cm).

Shall be radiolucent to allow x-ray examination.

Instructions for assembly and use shall be provided with each body splint assembly, including a warning against use with patients weighing in excess of the 350 lb maximum.

Workmanship. The body splint assembly shall be free from defects which detract from its appearance or impair its serviceability.

Unit. Each (EA). One body splint assembly, as specified, constitutes one unit.

DISTRIBUTION STATEMENT A. Approved for public release; distribution is unlimited.
