10. PREPARATION INSTRUCTIONS

10.1 General. This report establishes the skill, knowledge, and attitude training requirements for each type aircrew and ground personnel to be trained in the ATS. Based on the types of skills and knowledges required to be trained, proficiency levels/codes are assigned for each task/task activity.

10.2 Content and format. The format for the TRAR is shown in the following paragraphs along with a description of the material to be contained in each section.

10.2.1 Skills and knowledge analysis.

10.2.1.1 Procedures. This section describes the methods and procedures used to conduct the analysis of skills, knowledges, and desired attitudes. It shall include detailed narratives, descriptions, flow diagrams, and other information on any taxonomies, typologies, or classification strategies used to identify skills, knowledges, and attitudes from JPR data.

10.2.1.2 Skill and knowledge profiles. This section addresses each type aircrew and ground personnel JPR. It shall include evaluation results and profiles of perceptual/motor skills, cognitive tasks, information processing skills, knowledge requirements, and desired attitudes for each critical task identified.

10.2.2 Target population/entry skills analysis. This section describes the results of the target population analysis conducted for each unique population type entering the ATS for training. It shall include evaluation reports for each JPR and skill/knowledge profile identified. These reports shall contain estimations of the degree of retention, comprehension, and proficiency each student population already has for the task and task activities identified to be trained in the ATS.
